DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-10, 68-70, 82 and 83, drawn to the invention of a display device comprising an array of display drivers to control the plurality of pixels in the display area, and wherein the display drivers comprise serial shift registers with memory elements, classified in class 345, subclass 87.
 - II. Claims 11-19, drawn to an integrated circuit device having symmetric interface pads coupling to a receptor site such that the device operates when mounted in any one of a plurality of orientations relative to the receptor site and also, comprises an instruction decoder, classified in class 326, subclass 105.
 - III. Claims 20-41, drawn to an integrated circuit device comprising a position detector arranged for detecting the position of the integrated device with respect to the receptor substrate, classified in class 438, subclass 17.
 - IV. Claims 42-59, drawn to an integrated circuit device comprising interface pads which are able to perform multiple function, classified in class 326, subclass 38.
 - V. Claims 60-67, drawn to a circuit for derivation of power from a signal having first and second edges, classified in class 326, subclass 33.
 - VI. Claims 71-81, drawn to a method and circuit for shifting a voltage level of a signal by using a clocked signal and controlling the state of a circuit node, classified in class 327, subclass 100.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 2675

Inventions of Groups I to VI are related as apparatus and product made. The inventions in this relationship are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the apparatus as claimed is not an obvious apparatus for making the product and the apparatus can be used for making a different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different apparatus (MPEP § 806.05(g)). In this case Group I discloses the actual display device; Group II discloses a circuit device which can be used to produce the display device and the operation of the integrated circuit pads with each other; Group III discloses the placement of the transistors with a position detector to disclose the locations of the integrated circuit pads; Group IV discloses where the integrated circuit pads are configurable for multiple functions; Group V discloses the power derivation for the integrated circuit; Group VI discloses shifting of a voltage level of the integrated circuit. In this application, Groups II to VI are some aspects of the apparatus used in order to make the product of the display device of Group I.

2. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
